WHITE SULPHUR

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
White Suighur Springs, W. Va., May 8.—
The annual spring meeting of the Trans-Alleghantes Cood Roads Association, an organization composed of prominent men of shairs in the cause and towns along the motor routes from New York, Prinadel-phia, Bastimore and Washington, through Virginia and West Virginia, was held at the New Greenbrier Roads this week. Final arrangements were competed by the association to make the motor routes of this section the best in the country. The roads in this section will be improved to a state of perfection that will make the main highway down to Staunton, via Gettysburg, magerstown and Washington, through the matour roads anywhere. A score or more motor parties have arrived at the New Greenbrier note into spring and next week Mis. Carance Gray Dismore and Mis. C. A. Sackett, who will motor down

"Huntington.

Mr. and airs. Emerson Chamberlain arrived from New York this week in a imnoising with a party and reported the roads in good condition.

James Buchainan Brady, who arrived here en Saturday with Frederick Housiman had a strenaus time during a short stay, Mr.
Brady, who took the 'kan' while here, set an example for the early risers. He was up and out below sunrise, and a new fulle Jaunt was followed by a visit to the Rurhouse, and later breakinst. On Saturday evening preceding the dance, Mr.
Brady entertained a score or more friends here at a dinner, and on Sunday he gave a luncheon. At all his parties there were souvenirs, and the floral decorations were unusually beautiful. Mr. Brady will return here next month and will be here off and on throughout the summer season.

With the exception of a few dinner parties, and the daily afternoon these dansants at the Casino, seedal activities have been remarkered to the farmhouse, where old Virginia innohoon, breaktasts, teas, dinters and suppers have fined in a busy week for the horseback riders, riders and trampers, who prefer a five-mile jaunt over the hills, as a neen appetizer.

Einhurst Farm has had a record fortnight with lunchoon and tea parties, and at Alcontain Home and Mann's Farm, both of which opened for the season ten days ago, there have been a number of parties.

of which opened for the season ten days ago, there have been a number of parties.

Another and more unique farmhouse will be added to the list shortly, lieary and Jawrence Dickson, who have for several years been prominently identified with the Greenbrier horse show and other cutdon activities of Greenbrier County, recently purchased a huge tract of land on Greenbrier Mountain. Work will commence next week on a plateau on the highest peak, which commands a magnificent view for a railine of forty miles, on a big rambling log cabin, which will be completed in time for a fermal opening on July 4, for the summer and fall seasons. Here hunt breakfasts, luncheous, teas, dinners and suppersively be served all the year round, in old Virginia style, and in addition to a menu of spoon bread, corn pone, waffer, fried chicken and spiced fruits, game in season, will also be served. As the crows first, the new farmhouse, which will be known as the Tip-Top Tea House, will be two miles from and within sight of New Greenbrier, and will be reached by a five mile road up the mountain within a mile of the site, and from there on the present trail will be widened for the accommendation of carriages and motors.

Mrs. Anson R. Flower, of Watertown, entertained at Elmhurst this week in compliment to the Misses Dorothy Woodruff and Elizabeth Raboock, Others who have been there and at Mountain Home and Mann's Farm, include Mrs. John Jacob Artor, Mrs. A. Green William de Forest Haynes, Belevin L. Gerry, W. de Lancey Kountze, George S. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henderson, Mrs. E. S. Harkness and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Henderson, Mrs. E. S. Harkness and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lyford.
